

Philosophy and the curriculum's objectives

The curriculums are in accordance with the change of society and it can fulfill a need of institutions or enterprises which are in need of lawyers as well as legal expert in an international business environment.

4 year Curriculum Admission

400 students for ordinary program

The total credits for all course work is 143 credits

LL.B.

Bachelor of Laws

Master of Law (LLM.)

Criminal Law

Business Law

Public Law

Our master of law program tends to produce qualified bachelors who possess a legal expertise for responding to a social need. This law program can be divided into 3 sub-programs, such as,

- Criminal law which is focusing on studying of an advanced criminal law for creating personnel who possesses a criminal law knowledge responding to judiciary organization and other public services
- Business law which is responding to a business sector and any other related works and
- Public law which is aimed at creating personnel with an expertise in public law for responding to an expansion of organizations relate to administrative law for example, the administrative court and other related public services

Admissible number for each program:

25 students

Total 70 students

The total credits for all course work is 48 credits

Our master of law program is divided into 2 Plans :

Plan A : This Scheme consists of coursework from a list of courses offered and a thesis

Plan B : Students can complete all coursework from a list of courses offered and independent research within 2 year-semester. After having graduated from our law program, students are eligible to take the examinations for judiciary officers and public prosecutors in accordance with the regulation of judiciary commission and the public prosecutor commission.

LL.M.

Master of Laws

School of law
MaeFahLuang University

The school of laws was established on 23rd January, 2003 according to the Regulation of Mae Fah Luang University regarding the establishment of working organizations (Edition 2) B.E. 2003 No.120, Chapter 25 Ngor., and dated 17

Philosophy and the Curriculum's objectives

This curriculum is aimed at enhancing student's legal knowledge both in theoretical and practical parts enabling our students to exercise their legal professions in each field, the curriculum is responding to a widely need of the society both in public and private sectors. Our students are trained to be able to accurately employ their legal knowledge in each circumstance and they know how to reasonably use and efficiently comprehend in the code of law both its interpretation and its intention of law.

Introduction

The school of laws was established for the purpose of supporting a widely need of studying law at the moment. The curriculum was drafted by experts in the field of law which tends to train our graduates of law being knowledgeable, having a legal expertise in theoretical part and being able to apply it in practical part as well as believing firmly in moral principles, legal justice and ethics of the legal profession. At our school of laws, we organize regularly many supplementary educational activities for enhancing our law students's ability to always have learning opportunities in any circumstance. Moreover, there are various educational activities, outings as well as special lectures conducted by many legal experts.

Legal career's path

We tend to produce our graduates of law to be completely knowledgeable with moral principles and having social responsibility for becoming lawyers, public prosecutor and judges. Apart from that, if our graduates of law have an intention to work as a public servant in any fields such as, administrative public servant, diplomatic officer with Bachelor of law degrees. Moreover, our graduates can also working in the private sector or carrying on their own businesses because of having a legal knowledge and an expertise for creating successfulness in their works later on.

Mae Fah Luang
University
School of law

History & establishment

Furthermore, at the school of laws of Mae Fah Luang University, we conduct several projects for rendering a wide range of academic services particularly for legal aid service to the society, the community and the district as well as the public service, the governmental organization and private sector, such as:

- The project of giving legal advice to the public,
- The juristic relation fair,
- The traditionally juristic memorial fair, the constitutional's week fair etc.

All of this, in order to be in accordance with Mae Fah Luang University's important commitment in order to create a newly knowledge base in local, national and international level, particularly in GMS :

(The Greater Mekhong Sub-region) as well as succeeding Mae Fah Luang University's philosophy.

Academic staff & opportunity

For achieving the above objectives, the school of laws which is led by Associate Professor Dr.Chalor Wongwattanapikul, the Dean of the school of laws has been arranging a number of permanent academic staffs. Also, we have cooperation from many visiting lecturers composing of academic staffs from nationally leading universities and highly reputation legal experts with fully acquired experiences from judges, public prosecutors, polices, lawyers and legal counselors who posses an expertise in each taught subject becoming our principle lecturers. We also have organized the moot court for our law students to be practically trained.

online information
<http://www.mfu.ac.th>

School of Mae Fah Luang University
333 moo 1, Thambon Thasud, Amphur muang
Chiangrai province 57100
Fax/Tel. 0-5391-6691